WELCOME TO ALABAMA

On behalf of the Alabama Association of County Agricultural Agents & Specialists, I would like to welcome you to the Great State of Alabama and the 99th Annual Meeting and Professional Improvement conference of the National Association of County Agricultural Agents.

Between the covers of this booklet, you will find the fruits of labor of the Alabama team, NACAA committees, and many others putting together the finest professional development available for Extension educators. It has been a true privilege to watch the efforts of everyone involved in bringing this meeting to reality. I am grateful for their dedicated work

From the Opening Session to the close of the DSA banquet, there are many opportunities for you to learn from our peers across the country. Their programs selected for oral, poster or award presentations represent the tremendous impact Cooperative Extension is making across the country. These professionals are making a difference. Look through the program, participate in the presentations that interest you and take their ideas home to make a difference in your community.

Twenty years ago, in 1994, I attended my first NACAA AMPIC in Casper, Wyoming. Saying I was a little overwhelmed would be an understatement. But sitting through the many professional improvement sessions and listening to the Keynote and Capstone presentations enabled me to go back home and make a difference in my programs, deliver greater impact for my clientele and provide much more satisfaction in my career. I know beyond the shadow of a doubt, the programs scheduled here in Mobile will do the same for you.

Welcome to Alabama. We hope you have a great experience on the Alabama Gulf Coast.

DISCOVER OUR SOUTHERN CHARM

The Alabama Association of County Agricultural Agents and Specialists is proud to welcome you to beautiful Mobile, Alabama, and the 99th Annual Meeting and Professional Improvement Conference. For months our committees have worked hard to make this conference a “World-Class” event and we are certain you won’t be disappointed.

*AACAAS President,
Max Runge*

The theme for this year’s conference is “Discover Our Southern Charm,” so please let any of the folks in orange vests know what they can do to make your time here enjoyable and comfortable - or as much as you can be in Alabama in July, anyway!

From Sunday evening’s opening ceremony through Thursday night’s banquet, the week will be filled with educational and professional improvement opportunities for agents, spouses, retirees and children. Good food, fun and fellowship will add even more to the week’s program.

Our tradeshow will be a mix of educational and commercial exhibits, offering something for everyone. We are especially grateful to all of our sponsors and encourage you to spend time with them. The trade show will be open from Sunday through Tuesday, so go early and often.

Meanwhile, the 4-H Talent Revue is sure to be an unforgettable experience, not only for the 4-H’ers but for the audience as well, thanks in large part to Kevin Sport, host of RFD television’s “The Right Place with Kevin Sport,” and special guest of this year’s talent showcase.

Again, we’re happy you’ve chosen to join your fellow agents and specialists here at the 2014 conference. And by the way, this week comes with the association’s Three-E Guarantee: Education, Entertainment and Eating! So, Laissez les bons temps rouler! (Or, as we say in Alabama, Let the good times roll!)

War Eagle!

2014 SERVICE TO AMERICAN/WORLD AGRICULTURE AWARD RECIPIENT

John W. Jensen
Interim Director, School of Fisheries
Auburn University

Prior to becoming an administrator in 1995 my career focused on extension education when I joined the Peace Corps in 1969. Worked on a river in central Brazil where I organized commercial fishermen who formed a marketing cooperative that successfully marketed fish for five years in several of Brazil's largest cities.

Employed as a research associate by Auburn University in 1972 and worked for 3 years in Northeast Brazil where I organized an extension education component in a federal agency with the objective of introducing aquaculture to regional farmers. My work was supported by the U. S. Agency for International Development.

Employed by the Alabama Cooperative Extension System (ACES) in 1979 as a Fisheries Specialist. My principal assignment was to work in aquaculture production, processing and marketing, and small impoundment management

The catfish industry in Alabama grew from 4 million pounds produced in 1979, to 110 million pounds produced in 2000. As the industry grew, extension funds and special legislative line items were made available to support the industry with new research and extension efforts.

The Alabama Fish Farming Center, an organization that I was involved in establishing, began operations in 1982.

During the period 1979 - 1990, when commercial aquaculture grew by 1,000%, Responded to needs of the industry through thousands of personal contacts. I wrote numerous extension publications to support subject matter needs of our clientele.

Used mass media extensively and conducted innovative field-based county agent in-service training exercises that became models for other states. Each year I was requested by dozens of county agents, individuals and civic to provide technical assistance and training within the state and throughout the Southeast.

Involved in 4-H natural resource education by developing aquatic resource camp activities, providing county agent training and conducting dozens of 4-H field days related to aquatic resource management and aquaculture. Assisted vocational agriculture and other public school programs statewide by providing support to their aquatic resource teaching activities.

My most significant accomplishments during my extension specialist career were: founding of the Alabama Fish Farming Center, establishment of the Alabama Catfish Quality Assurance Program, and supporting the growth of the catfish farming business, to become Alabama's 5th most important agricultural product.

As Department Head of Fisheries and Allied Aquacultures I oversaw 22 faculty and a total of 145 employees, an $11 million budget. Involved in the oversight of international projects in Philippines, Bangladesh, China, Brazil, Ecuador, Honduras, South Africa and Kenya. During my time as head, the department maintained its world-class status and became a university Peak of Excellence. The following is a partial list of activities and accomplishments as Department Head:

- Grants and contracts in the department grew to $4.1 million in 2000, more than any other department on campus. They were at the time 18% of the University departmental grants and contracts and 58% of the COAG departmental grants and contracts.
- Helped bring in USDA support for red snapper research ($2.6 million in 3 years).
- Developed an MOU with USDA-ARS Aquatic Animal Health Laboratory that resulted in $250,000 in annual USDA funding and 2 new faculty positions.
- Seven years of effort by members of my faculty and me have resulted in an MOU with the Dauphin Island Sea Lab and the construction of a new $650,000 shellfish laboratory on Dauphin Island Sea Lab property.
- Worked collaboratively with the International Center for Aquaculture and Aquatic Environments on international and domestic projects.
- Invested in distance education equipment and expertise that allowed real-time internet teaching of FISH 6650, Post-Harvest Technology, from Faulkner State University in Bay Minette to our students at sites in Auburn and Gulf Shores as well as lectures to South African students.
- Developed and helped implement AAES, ACES and NRCS annual operating budgets for the Alabama Fish Farming Center, Greensboro.
- Secured a donation of the South Auburn Fisheries unit worth $1 million.
- Secured hard dollar support for coordination of the Alabama Water Watch program directed by the department.
- Developed a hybrid catfish initiative that formed the basis for a USDA-SRAC regional project to support the catfish industry.

Currently serving as Interim Director, School of Fisheries, Aquaculture and Aquatic Sciences, Auburn University.

2014 AM/PIC SPEAKER PROFILES

Dana Chandler has worked in a variety of capacities within both the private and public sectors. A trained surveyor, civil engineer and project manager, he has helped to design and build projects throughout the South and nation. In later years, Chandler has worked specifically with corporations seeking to start up recycling facilities in the U.S. and Latin America. He has also helped with a number of archaeological digs and surveys in the U.S., Mexico and Belize. A trained archivist and historian, receiving his graduate degree from Auburn University, Chandler now works as the University Archivist and an assistant professor of history at Tuskegee University. Currently he is the lead archaeologist for “The Ridge: A Macon County Archaeological Project.”

A world traveler, he has conducted research on a variety of topics at some of the most prestigious archives in the world. Chandler has, likewise, published a number of articles and spoken on Archaeological related subjects, primarily concerning the Maya. He currently has a book contract with the University of Alabama Press.

Since 1994, Damian Mason has spoken in all 50 states and 8 foreign countries to some of the biggest names in agriculture. His presentations are hilarious, high energy, and occasionally edgy.

In a conversational yet comedic style, Damian will address contemporary issues impacting the industry of food, fuel, and fiber. More importantly, Mr. Mason will share his views on what it will take to keep the county extension agent relevant for the next century.

Damian says,

“I’ve known every county extension agent in Huntington, Indiana from the time of my childhood. I understand the value they provide and I respect how and why the position was created. But rural America has changed. It’s imperative that the county extension role adapt to this new landscape.

From hobby farmers to large scale agricultural producers, to an ignorant consumer, there’s still a tremendous need for the sort of guidance and university extension that was created 100 years ago.

The internet, paid consultants, and industry sponsored advisors, aren’t the agent’s competition. In many ways, these things point to an even greater need for what the extension agent provides: impartial, research based information.”

NACAA Hall of Fame Award

The NACAA Recognition and Awards Committee is proud to present these three recipients with the NACAA Hall of Fame Award. The Hall of Fame Award recognizes one member or life member from each NACAA region. Each state can nominate one individual. Based on a 500 word summary and three letters of support, the state nominees are evaluated on their Extension programming, state and national association activities and humanitarian efforts beyond the normal call of duty.

Our thanks to John Deere for sponsorship of the NACAA Hall of Fame Awards

Larry Moorehead

Tennessee

36 Years

The first four years of my career was teaching Vo-Ag. I wanted something different so I applied and was accepted into a PhD program at Illinois. However, before the end of the '77 school year I was offered an Extension job in Moore County. I accepted the 50% 4-H and 50% Ag position and did not go back to school.

Moore County is a livestock county and this suited my training in animal science. Producers feed the by-product from Jack Daniels Distillery and Moore is the number one cattle-feeding county in the state.

In 1990 I did a demonstration on storing hay and recording losses. We were losing 33% of our hay by January. I started promoting hay barns and became known as the 'barn man'. I did talks from East to West Tennessee and even assisted with plans.

I showed how a farmer could pay for a barn in 5 years from the waste. When Tennessee Department of Ag started the TAEP cost-share program I was the only agent called in by the Commissioner of Agriculture to discuss how hay barns would help all livestock producers and they have been cost-shared on ever since.

I'm in the smallest county in the state and the first year of cost-share we were number 2 in the state on new barns because we had already seen how valuable they are.

In 4-H, we went from one family to over 30 families showing at the state expo. Having the most outstanding county exhibit in 1987. My first big project in 4-H was landscaping the new high school with 200 plus plants and all the money was raised through donations. In 2002 we put in a reading garden at the elementary school and have landscaped the rest of the grounds since then with 150 plus plants.

I still work with and help raise money for a county camp. When I started, 4-Her's paid to go and we carried about 25-30 kids. Today it's an award and at no cost for their participation in clubs. We had over 125 4-Her's there last year with 25 adult leaders.

In 1988 I attended my first NACAA meeting to receive my DSA. I suggested to our State President that we could host a meeting and we did in 1996. I was named Chair of the Seeking Committee then elected Meeting Chair in 1992. I went on my first NACAA tour in 1987, gave my first $20 to the scholarship fund in 1988 and to date have given $9755.00. I work with young agents to get them interested in NACAA through AM/PICS and NACAA Tours.

Hall of Fame Award
Donald Fretts
Pennsylvania
13 Years - Retired

Before Don joined PSU Extension at the age of 52 in 1995, He was active 4-H member, had several agricultural related careers and was Executive Director of the Westmoreland County Fair. He developed a crops demonstration and hay marketing site on the fairgrounds in cooperation with Penn State Extension.

Don developed many successful regional programs in 13 years with extension:

CTAP (Computer Technology for Agricultural Producers) – A three year multicounty training event to bring farm producers current on computer technology and training.

Developed a 9 County Standardized County 4-H Livestock Guidelines for the development of the 4-H member.

4-H Achievement Ladder recognition system for encouraging youth to achieve personal growth in knowledge, character and service.

9 County Commissioners Forum to inform local county policy and budget makers of Cooperative Extension's roll with public education.

Keystone Development Center, a Mid-Atlantic regional cooperative development center combined with the Farm Credit System, PA State Cooperative Association and Extension.

Extension programming in crop production, farm management workshops, field trials and development of the SW No-Till and tri-state Forage Conference.

Improved funding supporting for the Fayette County Extension program by over 100% in 7 years and developed over $150,000.00 in two local extension foundations.

Association

Agent William Kelly had a tremendous influence on Don and his PACAA/NACAA involvement. His first AM/PIC was in 1996. He left impressed with a set course for personal extension growth and attended 12 of the next 13 AM/PIC's.

Don was a PACAA Director, Secretary, President Elect and President. Don developed a food booth fundraiser and in four years, paid for a permanent structure with profits of $3000-$4000 annually to support PACAA/NACAA member activities and conferences.

Don coordinated the 2006-2008 cooperation of all associations, the NE & PA JCEP to set the stage to host 2013 Galaxy 4 in Pennsylvania. Don's vision to work together carried this project.

Don created and submitted the 2008 PA JCEP proposal that the NE host Galaxy IV in Pittsburgh, PA.

Don has won awards, PACAA state, regional and national in Communications and Search for Excellence, including the 2000 National Winner in Farm and Ranch Management.

Since retirement, Don served a term as NE Life Member Vice Chair.

Humanitarian

Don continues to use his skills and contacts with the volunteer efforts in his community. Westmoreland County Cattlemen, Westmoreland County Farmers Association, Pennsylvania Farm Bureau and Farm Credit Associations, and in retirement at the Augusta Farm Bureau Cooperative.

Don's involvement with United Methodist Church has been influenced by life's teachers, 4-H, Agri-business, farming, & Extension. Christianity has provided direction to always strive to do what is right and best, not just expedient or convenient. Don enjoys being a better mentor to those younger in their Christian faith or their professional walk through life.

A group of farmers gave Don a plaque he cherishes the most. It reads, "In Don we trust". "Thanks for all your hard work."

Billy Dictson
New Mexico
37 Years - Retired

Mr. Dictson was the County Agent we all strive to be. He cared about his clientele as a 4-H agent, Agriculture Agent, County Program Director, District Department Head, and as State Director. He started his experience with Extension as a 4-H member and even in retirement he is dedicated to those he has served. Mr. Dictson began his career as a 4-H agent and soon developed one of the largest most active programs in the state. As an agriculture agent a very large commercial agricultural county his advice and knowledge was solicited by most of his producers. He was know for his agriculture educational programs which drew record attendance. Among his clientele was the state president of Farm Bureau, Chair of the Extension Support Council, state president of wheat and corn growers and other high profile persons. He was able to work with them on their level and be a mentor and source of knowledge for them. He was the spokesman for agriculture in the county and conducted as many as three radio programs daily and one newspaper column per week. Mr. Dictson has demonstrated in his career with Extension those personal characteristics again and again in every position he has been assigned. He had a vision of a better extension service that was demonstrated in every aspect of proگرامing. He kept that vision always, no matter the adversity to keep it moving forward. Because of his vision and ability to plan, to take the initiative, find the resources when they were short, with integrity, and the courage to stand up for county agents to University Administrations in a tactful way. As he was promoted up into administration he exhibited and promoted a philosophy, policies that are spoke of in the Extension Workers Creed. The philosophy of extension work thrives in the man known as Billy Dictson because he holds a deep concern for the well-being of all mankind and that abiding faith in people and their ability to develop and reach their life goals and potential. He served from 1965 to 2002 a total of 37 years.
