Welcome to Tennessee!

Welcome to Chattanooga, Tennessee and 103rd National Association of County Agricultural Agents Annual Meeting and Professional Improvement Conference. We are excited you have chosen to help us "Cultivate, Innovate and Celebrate" everything that is NACAA. The Tennessee members along with the NACAA board and committees have put together a week filled with opportunities to hear, see and learn.

Please take a few minutes to study this program book. The choices are many and you may want to compare notes with others to ensure you don't miss the important ones. A special welcome to the largest group of First Time attendees ever! May you grow in knowledge and learn the value of participation in NACAA.

Beginning with the entertainment filled opening session on Sunday through the Distinguished Service awards banquet on Wednesday and the tours on Thursday there are activities for everyone. With the new breakout sessions added Wednesday morning, this conference has more total breakout sessions than ever before. All members should find multiple topics of interest each day to hear and learn more about.

Numerous members will be recognized for their accomplishments and the fine programs they have conducted to help their clientele. From Communications and Search for Excellence to the Achievement, Distinguished Service and Hall of Fame awards and others we congratulate the recipients for the many well deserved honors to be bestowed upon them.

There are many sponsors, individuals, state associations and companies who generously help make this conference possible. Please visit the Exhibit hall and see the booths those sponsors provide to share their information and products. While there visit the huge poster session and see the multitude of successful programs members brought to share.

To the life members, spouses and sons and daughters: thank you for coming. The many events and tours planned for you will be both enjoyable and perhaps educational too. The Chattanooga area provides a wealth of historical, agricultural and entertaining sites to see and experience.

My fellow Tennesseans have worked diligently to ensure you have a week filled to the brim with opportunities to see, hear and enjoy all of what Tennessee is about. The NACAA board and committees have organized the program to fit the diverse topics of interest to all members and to honor those who have excelled at providing programs to their clientele.

Again, welcome to Chattanooga. May you find ways to "Cultivate" new friendships, learn ways to "Innovate" your programs and help us "Celebrate" the accomplishments of your fellow members.

Welcome to Tennessee

Howdy, y'all! Southern hospitality and a Moon Pie await you at the 2018 AM/PIC in Chattanooga, Tennessee, where we will Cultivate, Innovate and Celebrate NACAA. The members and friends of the Tennessee Association of County Agricultural Agents and Specialists (TAAA&S) are working hard to make this conference memorable. We look forward to showcasing Chattanooga, the Scenic City, and the entire state of Tennessee on your visit.

Sunday night begins our AM/PIC with a "Welcome to Tennessee" dinner sponsored by TU Extension. Gather with us as we enjoy a farm-to-table style meal, and visit the trade show area with a wide variety of exhibits and displays. The fun continues after dinner with our opening session and the award winning bluegrass music group Balsam Range as they entertain us with the Tennessee history of bluegrass, blues and country music.

New this year, the Life Member Program has joined forces with the Spouses Program for tours and selected activities. From Civil War history, horticulture, cheese, wine and the Tennessee Aquarium, explore the Tennessee Valley region with a wide variety of educational and fun-filled tours. A number of fun sessions and tours will be offered both Monday and Wednesday for both groups to enjoy. The Life Member Breakfast and Spouses Luncheon will be held on Monday. Bill Landry from The Heartland Series will share experiences of hosting and producing stories of the people and culture of East Tennessee at the Life Member Breakfast. During the Spouses Luncheon, Rhedona Rose, the first woman to lead the nation's largest state Farm Bureau organization, will encourage attendees to make their voices heard.

New this year is a half-day session on small unmanned aircraft systems or drones for agriculture use. This innovative session will help our Extension professionals provide information to share with our producers about this timely use of technology.

The Sons and Daughters program will provide nonstop fun as we take in a variety of Chattanooga's family-friendly activities. The Tennessee Aquarium, Tennessee Valley Railroad, and Lake Winnie Amusement Park are only a few of the exciting adventures that await the Sons and Daughters. In addition, participants will participate in a service learning project with Tennessee 4-H.

Be sure to attend the 4-H Talent Revue on Monday night for outstanding entertainment featuring Southern Region 4-H members. Come celebrate the gifts of these youth as Tennessee's own Cowboy Dan rounds up the talent.

One of the highlights of the week is Wednesday's annual banquet. Join us as we celebrate our DSA and AA winners for the year. We are pleased to be able to offer a taste of Tennessee wines at the banquet thanks to a generous sponsorship from the Tennessee Farm Winegrowers.

The professional development tours on Thursday will be visiting locations in more than 24 East and Middle Tennessee counties and one Georgia location, encompassing more than 4,200 miles. These diversified tours highlight Tennessee agriculture, historical points of interest and family attractions.

We have received generous support from our sponsors across the state and nation to help host this conference. More than 57 businesses and organizations and numerous individuals have given funds for in-kind donations. Special thanks goes to our Celebrator donors of the Tennessee General Assembly and University of Tennessee Extension. We hope you will enjoy the benefits of their generosity throughout the week.

We are honored to be your host this week. We hope that you enjoy Chattanooga and other wonderful parts of our state, cultivate new connections and friendships, innovate with new program concepts and creative ideas, and celebrate the successes of NACAA.

2018 SERVICE TO AMERICAN/WORLD AGRICULTURE AWARD RECIPIENT

Clark D. Garland

More than 47 years ago, Dr. Clark D. Garland joined the University of Tennessee as an agricultural economist in Extension. Since that time, he has provided exemplary leadership and conducted farm and financial management educational programs in Tennessee. His signature career achievement is the design, development and leadership of the highly successful MANAGE program. In 1986, Tennessee legislative, agriculture and Extension leaders established MANAGE and provided additional financial support to employ staff to work intensively with farm families. Thirty-two years later, the state continues to provide funding for nine area farm management specialists located across Tennessee. These specialists work directly with Extension agents to help farm families evaluate their individual situation and assist them in improving their quality of life. More than 19,000 farm families have greatly benefited from MANAGE. The program is recognized as among the strongest and most effective in the nation. Clark was the original coordinator of MANAGE.

Prior to the MANAGE program, he collaborated with Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) to conduct the Resource Management and Rapid Adjustment Farm Demonstration programs. Dr. Garland provided leadership and guidance to 20 area agents working with thousands of Tennessee farm families across the TVA watershed in Tennessee. TVA invested in both agent salaries and farmer incentive payments as they implemented new farming practices and conducted farm test demonstrations. He also provided overall leadership in Tennessee for developing the Agri-21 Farming Systems project, which was conducted cooperatively with the Tennessee Valley Authority. Agri-21 Farming Systems was implemented in 1993 to teach development of sustainable farms and transfer that information in an effective manner to professional agricultural workers, farm families, and general public in the seven state Tennessee Valley Region. In Tennessee, 25 families representing 14 farms contributed to the achievement of project objectives.

Dr. Garland served as Tennessee's Sustainable Agriculture Co-Coordinator and Co-Leader for Green Industry Programs. He also chaired the Tennessee Biofuels Initiative Farmer Education Team. Clark provided leadership for educational programs for farmers on contracting and producing switchgrass for biomass. Sixty-one farmers grew 5,100 acres of switchgrass for biofuels production and research development.

Clark Garland has served with distinction on national USDA grant review panels. He also served on several national advisory teams. He's made extensive and valuable contributions in the area of University service. Clark served on numerous important Extension, Institute, and University committees. Notably, Clark served as chair of The University of Tennessee Institute of Agriculture (UTIA) Advisory Council and as one of two UTIA representatives appointed to the University's Faculty Handbook Committee.

Clark has a sustained record of external funding. He served as principal investigator on 45 grants and contracts, for $4.6 million, to develop, deliver and improve Extension programs. He also collaborated on 17 additional projects, with $2.2 million awarded. Throughout his career, Dr. Garland has anticipated emerging issues, excelled at Extension programming, made a positive impact and provided visionary leadership. He does an excellent job of skillfully influencing major decisions in appropriate directions. He has served as a mentor, champion and coach to numerous Extension specialists and agents both in Tennessee and surrounding states. Clark is recognized on the national level as a leader in farm financial management educational programs. For example, in a note of endorsement, Robert Craven, Director of the Center for Farm Financial Management at the University of Minnesota stated "Clark provided the leadership and intellectual know-how to help us adapt farm financial planning software, FINPACK, to meet the needs of producers in the South. Dr. Garland has made numerous national presentations about the MANAGE program and other educational activities. This willingness to share and cooperate with others has been a hallmark of working with Clark."

Dr. Garland has been a member of NACAA and the Tennessee Association of Agricultural Agents and Specialists through-out his career. He received the Distinguished Service Award from the National Association of County Agricultural Agents. Other awards include the Association of Public and Land-Grant Universities Southern Region National Award for Excellence in Extension and the Superior Service Award from Tennessee Valley Region Association of Demonstration Farm Families. He also received the University of Tennessee B. Ray Thompson Sr. Outstanding Faculty Performance and the Webster Pendergrass Award for Outstanding Service.

Dr. Garland has not let retirement halt his service to agriculture. Post-retirement contributions include serving as a board member with River Valley AgCredit Association. He also served as one of three judges for the Swisher Sweets/Sunbelt Expo Southeastern Farmer of the Year contest. This prestigious award is presented to a farmer at the annual Sunbelt Expo. Clark also served as a member and director of the National Land-Grant University Tax Education Foundation.

Clark continues to coordinate Tennessee's Federal Income Tax Seminars in cooperation with Tennessee Farm Bureau and the Internal Revenue Service. Income tax seminars are conducted at various locations throughout Tennessee. The tax seminar educational program is in its 58th year and is designed for tax professionals who prepare and file tax returns for farm and non-farm businesses and individuals. In 2017, participants in these seminars completed 211,002 federal tax returns including 29,474 farm returns.

Clark is a tremendous supporter for The Pearl House in Ghana, where his youngest daughter Courtney, has begun a new life serving as a founder and CEO beginning back in 2013. The Pearl House protects, educates and provides spiritual guidance to at-risk young ladies in underserved communities in Ghana. The house currently takes care of 22 teenaged girls. In April of 2018 they opened the Pearl House Career Center, teaching young women vocational skills. In September of 2018, they will also be opening an academic school, Pearl House Academy. In all endeavors, The Pearl House seeks to inspire young women to have a positive impact on their family, their community and their nation.

Clark is widely known as a highly dedicated and productive professional. Agents, farm families and other agricultural professionals across Tennessee and the nation have the highest respect for Clark as an expert in farm financial management and as an effective educator.

2018 AM/PIC SPEAKER PROFILES

Dr. James “Pete” McConnell, Professor Emeritus Clemson University

Dr. James C. (Pete) McConnell was born in Comfort, TN, near South Pittsburg, where he grew up on a 100 acre farm surrounded by laying chickens, pigs, corn and soybeans. He grew up participating in the local 4-H club. One of the highlights was a trip to Chicago where his team placed 11th in the nation in the Poultry Judging. He graduated from South Pittsburg High School in 1961 and headed to the University of Tennessee at the age of 17. After graduating the top student of the College of Agriculture in June, 1965, Pete continued at UT on an NDEA scholarship, receiving his PhD in June 1970.

As an undergraduate he served as a member of the Livestock Judging team, Meats Judging team, President of Block and Bridle and member of Farm House Fraternity. His graduate work was in Animal Science with an emphasis on Swine Nutrition. After receiving his PhD, he began his career at Clemson University conducting research with swine and teaching undergraduate and graduate classes. Pete served as President of Gamma Sigma Delta and was named on the Honor Roll of Professors three times – a designation chosen solely by the students. After 34 years of teaching more than 8,000 students, he retired to his 35 acre farm near Pendleton, South Carolina.

Pete is active in his community serving as President of the Pendleton Farmers Society, one of the oldest in the country, with meetings in the oldest farmer’s society building in America, built in 1822. He has served as a volunteer fireman since 1983 and is currently the Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Pendleton Fire Department. Pete’s carpentry skills has made him a leader at Salkehatchie, a United Methodist mission, where youth are guided to repair homes of the indigent and less fortunate. He raises Bantam chickens for competition, sings in the church choir and teaches Sunday school. In his spare time, he falls asleep in the recliner. He and his wife, Jo, have three productive children and seven amazing grandchildren.

Jarman and Nancy Sullivan, 2017 National OYF Finalists

From the time he was five years old, Jarman Sullivan was determined to be a farmer. After graduating with a degree in Agronomy from NC State University, he began growing corn, soybeans, wheat, tobacco, and timber on the family farm near Faison. A 3,050 head pig nursery and a 2,460 head hog finishing facility are also part of the diversified operation.

Following Jarman’s return, the farm expanded its tobacco production and established wildlife habitats on its 350 acres of forest land. Center pivot irrigation was also added, including soil moisture sensors and low pressure drip nozzles. The farm also utilizes terraces to reduce erosion, and soil sampling and yield maps help manage fertilizer application as well as plant population and hybrid selection. Working with seed companies, cooperative extension, and North Carolina State University, the farm has evaluated new products and farming methods to help manage risk factors, primarily due to climate and weather events. Planting newer hybrids and varieties of crops that can withstand heat and drought is a top priority. Growing varieties of tobacco and corn that have varying maturity dates allows harvesting at an optimum time to avoid damage from hurricanes. In 2015, the farm lost 40 bushels per acre in some corn fields due to stink bug damage. Working with NC State on scouting methods and thresholds to determine the growth stage and number of insects to justify treatment, damage was nearly eliminated last year. Other studies on the farm have included the nutrient availability of lagoon sludge, effects of fungicide and insecticide application of soybean yield, nitrogen rates in winter wheat, and maximum yield plots. Jarman’s wife, Nancy, teaches second grade at Hobbton Elementary and handles the technology on the farm, including yield mapping software, pesticide records, and bookkeeping tasks. The couple hopes to improve the farm’s productivity to allow their sons, Will and Thomas, an opportunity to farm in the future if they choose an agricultural career path. Jarman and Nancy are active members of Smith Chapel United Methodist Church in Mount Olive, and Jarman is fire chief of Piney Grove Volunteer Fire Department. Jarman also serves as a member of the Sampson County Cooperative Extension advisory committee and Southern States Cooperative advisory board.

TRADE TALK SESSION TOPICS:

(Concurrent Sessions held Monday morning, July 30, 2018)

HORTICULTURE

SBM Life Science - BioAdvanced

Extension agents are a community's best asset for agricultural and horticultural support and education. Join BioAdvanced Science-Based Solutions for important updates that will arm you with the information you need to help your community thrive, including:

- Best-in-class science-based research and innovations for lawns, gardens and homes
- The latest on invasive pests and how we can help your communities combat them
- Key findings related to bee health and how it impacts our industry
- The current regulatory landscape and how it is shaping our future

ANIMAL SCIENCE/CROP SCIENCE

National Pork Board

Dinah Peebles (National Certification Programs Director) will provide a National Pork Board update on the latest projects and resources for 2018. Some of the updates will include PQA revision, YQCA transition, and Secure Pork Supply.

FDA Center for Veterinary Medicine

Shannon Jordre, who will be representing FDA's Center for Veterinary Medicine this year, would like to discuss what animal producers should understand before using food waste as an inexpensive feed ingredient. It can be a valuable ingredient, but it might require special handling to make sure it's usable and safe, something the livestock producers you work with might not realize. He also plans to bring you up to date on recent developments with the Food Safety Modernization Act and the Veterinary Feed Directive.

Bayer Crop Science

In a society that's increasingly urban, distanced from agriculture, concerned with food issues and increasingly antagonistic towards conventional agriculture and those involved with it, it's critically important for American farmers and ag professionals to speak out and share their passion for this great industry and its importance to our global society. Bayer will speak to its recently launched "AgVocate," an initiative designed to inform, encourage and enable these voices within American agriculture to engage in the public dialogue about agriculture, food production and the importance of innovation to tackle the massive challenges facing our world today.

COMMODITY/ SAFETY/ INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS

Pipeline Ag Safety Alliance

The Pipeline Ag Safety Alliance (PASA) is a team of pipeline operators, working in collaboration with NACAA members and 811 Center representatives, dedicated to protecting the agricultural community, our nations buried infrastructure, and the environment through safe digging education. Farming is one of the 10 most dangerous jobs in America. By working with PASA you can help your clients avoid the grievous injury, environmental destruction, and financial ruin that would result from a serious pipeline incident. Attend our Trade Talk to hear how agents are already making a difference, and to learn how you can get involved. For more information on PASA, visit PipelineAgSafetyAlliance.com.

Explorations by Thor

Recap- Come learn about the NACAA inaugural continuing ed tour to the beautiful countries of France & Malta, various Ag programs from 2017 & 2018, and where NACAA is going next! We will highlight some of the specialized visits made by the inaugural NACAA horticulture and master gardener trip in May 2018. Alex Thor will also highlight some other amazing trips made by extension and universities alike. Finally, an outlook for the next two continuing Ag programs coming in 2019!

Cotton Inc.

Cotton Incorporated, funded by U.S. growers of upland cotton and importers of cotton and cotton textile products, is the research and marketing company representing upland cotton. As a not-for-profit, Cotton Incorporated does not manufacture or sell any products. Instead it conducts research to benefit every link on the cotton supply chain and develops promotions that encourage the use and desirability of cotton and cotton products.

Sunbelt Ag Expo

Held annually during the 3rd week of October, the Sunbelt Ag Expo farm show is located at Spence Field, Moultrie, GA. It has 100 acres of indoor and outdoor exhibit space and 600 acres of farmland used as a row crop and forage research farm. North America's Premier Farm Show® is the largest Farm Show in the world with field demonstrations. We annually host 1200 exhibitors and 80,000 visitors during the 3-day show. Our goal is to show the latest Ag technology in static exhibits and demonstrations on our research farm and livestock section for farmers and ranchers to come in and see, experience and gather information to take back to their farming operation to enhance their bottom line. 2018 dates are October 16-18.

NACAA Hall of Fame Award

The NACAA Recognition and Awards Committee is proud to present these three recipients with the NACAA Hall of Fame Award. The Hall of Fame Award recognizes one member or life member from each NACAA region. Each state can nominate one individual. Based on a 500 word summary and three letters of support, the state nominees are evaluated on their Extension programming, state and national association activities and humanitarian efforts beyond the normal call of duty.

Our thanks to Pipeline Ag Safety Alliance for sponsorship of the NACAA Hall of Fame Awards

Southern Region
Hall of Fame Award
Thomas Braddock
Florida
38 Years - Retired

Thomas "Tom" Hansen Braddock enjoyed a 38 year career with Duval County Extension. The first ten years Tom worked as a 4-H agent developing county-wide 4-H clubs as well as coaching livestock and land judging teams. After receiving his master's degree in animal science from UF, he was the Multi-County Dairy and Livestock Agent serving Duval, Nassau, Baker, Clay and St. Johns counties. In 1975, Tom became the County Extension Director for Duval County and retired in 1995. During that time he served as President of FACAA, formed and chaired the Northeast Florida Water Advisory Committee, and organized the Jacksonville-Duval Agricultural Council. Since retirement, Tom has served as Duval 4-H Foundation Director, President of Duval County Cattlemen's Association, Vice President and Board Member of Duval County Farm Bureau, President of the Greater Jacksonville Fair Association just to name a few. Tom also stays busy managing a 391 acre farm comprised of beef cattle and timber lands. He practices silviculture growing timber for both pulpwood and saw timber. This operation incorporates forestry BMPs to minimize non-point source water pollution. He has received multiple awards during his years of service. Tom received the Distinguished Service Award from FACAA, ESP, Florida Farm Bureau, Duval Soil and Water Conservation District, and Gamma Sigma Delta. He also received the Outstanding Agricultural Leader Award, Mayor's Agriculture Leadership Award, and was inducted into the Florida 4-H Hall of Fame. Tom has spent his life supporting agriculture and the future of agriculture, our youth.

DSA awarded in 1973.

2018
North Central Region
Hall of Fame Award
Gary W. Wilson
Ohio
31 Years

Gary W. Wilson's contribution to farm families and businesses throughout his Extension career has been nothing less than exceptional. His enthusiasm and work ethics were second to none. Until his retirement, Gary was an active member of The Ohio State University Extension's Forage Team, Agronomics Crops Team, Sheep Team and the Ag Manager Team. Gary has effectively worked with rural and urban audiences to solve a variety of production, economic, and social issues. Partnering with the University of Findlay, Gary maintained 60 different forage variety plots and investigated rotational versus continuous grazing and grazing preferences by horses. His research findings were presented at five different national conferences. Gary developed a forage curriculum for horses, which was used in more than 50 seminars for a total attendance of 1000 participants. Gary secured funds to create the Ohio Forage and Grassland Council in which he has remained active. He was heavily involved with American Forage and Grassland Council, being elected to the Board of Directors and later elected President in 2015. Gary was instrumental in creating the Ohio State Fair Sheep Skillathon event and continued as superintendent for 21 years. He organized sheep educational tours to Australia, New Zealand, Idaho-Oregon, Utah, and United Kingdom. As president of Hancock County Sheep Association, the group raised $50,000 for new sheep gates to be used in youth educational programs at the county fair. Gary provided leadership for many areas of OSU Extension. While County Director, the Hancock County Commissioners supported budget increases equaling 146% during his tenure and he was very instrumental in building the new County Agricultural Center. Hancock County has also benefited from volunteers coordinated by Gary through his Master Gardener and Ohio Certified Naturalist programs. More than 200 volunteers have been trained providing more than 35,000 hours of documented time to the community. He also initiated and developed the Hancock County Agricultural Hall of Fame program. Gary's humanitarian record is also outstanding. He has been a Sunday school teacher for 44 years, Chairman of the church congregation, a 4-H advisor for 35 years, and has worked regularly with a local organization to raise money to prevent child abuse. Gary initiated the Ag Career Scholarship Fund, which has raised more than $100,000 for future agricultural leaders. Gary was appointed to the Board of Trustee for Findlay-Hancock County Community Foundation, which provides $125 million for current and future community betterment projects. Presently, he is Vice President of the Board. A major program promoted by Wilson was Community Heart and Soul, a movement to revitalize small cities and towns in rural America. Two towns in Hancock County received a combined amount of $300,000 in grant funding for the program. Representing the Heart and Soul program, Gary was invited to participate in the Orton Foundation Chicago Seminar in 2016, the Orton Board Retreat in Vermont in 2017, and was asked to give a national presentation to the 2017 Rural Philanthropy Conference in Craig, Colorado.

DSA awarded in 1995.

Hall of Fame Award
Daniel Kluchinski
New Jersey

28 Years - Awarded Posthumously

Dan was born on March 29, 1963 in Passaic, NJ. Dan attended Clifton High School, graduating in 1981. He was a member of the Clifton High School Concert Choir and Madrigal Singers and was selected as a nominee for New Jersey Boy's State, and member of the All North Jersey Region I High School Chorus. Dan graduated from Rutgers University (1985), Bachelor of Science in Plant Science/ Agronomy with G. H. Cook Scholar Honors. He worked under the direction of his mentor, the late Dr. Richard Ilnicki, who encouraged a "city boy" to pursue a career in agriculture. Dan was active in the Rutgers Glee Club, and was proud of his accomplishments as a baritone. He served as Manager at Large, Vice President of Special Affairs, and Vice President of Fraternal Affairs. At Rutgers, he also served as president of Pi Alpha Xi, the National Floriculture Honorary Fraternity's Zeta Chapter. Dan graduated from Purdue University (1987), with an MS in Weed Science. He received the DuPont Outstanding Masters' Degree Graduate Student Award and served as the Graduate Student Association President. He enjoyed his summers in Madison, Indiana conducting research and helping to manage a rented farm off Route 62 near China Hill. Dan was an outstanding scientist, educator, administrator and mentor, and touched and influenced the lives of so many. He had a thirst for knowledge and derived great joy and satisfaction from helping others. Dan was an avid gardener, photographer, theater and music aficionado, loved the beach and outdoors, and traveling with friends. He always put others before himself and was a devoted uncle, friend, mentor and colleague. His positive attitude, kindness, boundless energy and caring nature will be missed by all those who know and love him. Although his fight with cancer included many challenges, Dan always kept his wonderful smile and sense of humor. His strength, optimism, and passion for life and learning were and will continue to be an inspiration.

DSA awarded in 2004.

2018
Western Region
Hall of Fame Award
Milt Green
Wyoming
32 Years - Retired

During his time as an educator, Milt Green demonstrated a commitment, dedication, and effective leadership in job performance as an outstanding educator. Getting his start in Agriculture Extension and 4-H he led many efforts to improve the program in Wyoming and the counties he was employed in. He and his team members increased 4-H enrollments and the involvement of its members in statewide events. During the mid-1980's farm crisis he was instrumental in helping support a farm crisis hotline for Wyoming farm families in financial stress. He did much work in Native American territories in both Utah and Wyoming, and served leadership positions in both states.

Milt is very involved in both the NACAA and WACAA. He has been a member of both associations for 31 years. He has held many offices and chaired committees in both the state and national associations. He served terms as the secretary and president of the state association. He was the National chair of the Ag Economics and Community Development committee and he the Western Region Vice chair of the Sustainable Agriculture committee. He received both the AA and DSA awards during his tenure with Extension. He has and continues to attend the NACAA AM/PICs and serves as the life member committee chair person for the Wyoming association as well as the Western Regional vice Chair for the life members committee.

Milt continues to be of service to his community and has participated in many activities outside of normal Extension programming. He has been involved in the Lions, Rotary, and Elks clubs. He was a board member of the After School Alliance in Lander, WY. He donates his time as a benefit auctioneer to many non-profit organizations.

The members of WACAA are lucky to have Milt as a member of our association and continually turn to him for advice in many situations. We are proud to nominate him for this award.

DSA awarded in 1988.
