

Small Plot Peanut Fungicide Efficacy Trials in North Florida, Supporting Photos

Extension specialist discussing the efficacy of fungicides used in the small plot peanut fungicide trial with peanut producers during a pre-season production meeting.

Extension specialist discussing the efficacy of fungicides used in the small plot peanut fungicide trial with producers during an on-farm trial field day.

Extension agents discussed the small plot peanut efficacy trial plot design and demonstrated spray equipment used during the Suwannee Valley Annual Peanut Harvest Field Day at the North Florida Research and Education Center-Suwannee Valley.

Extension agents and specialist discussed current fungicide spray schedules analyzed in the small plot peanut fungicide efficacy trial during the North Florida Research and Education Center-Suwannee Valley Corn/Peanut Field Day.

Extension agents discussed disease management options at the small plot peanut fungicide efficacy trial during the Suwannee Valley Peanut Field Day with Allied Industry at the North Florida Research and Education Center-Suwannee Valley.

Extension agents applying a bi-weekly fungicide treatment at the North Florida Research and Education Center-Suwannee Valley.

Extension agents and specialist scouting peanuts and recording disease ratings during bi-weekly fungicide treatments at the North Florida Research and Education Center-Suwannee Valley.

Extension agents, specialist and center staff harvesting small plot trials at the North Florida Research and Education Center-Suwannee Valley.

Extension agent discussed the impact of data collected from the small plot peanut fungicide efficacy trial when assisting producers with disease management decisions. Experiential learning opportunities for new and experienced Extension agents were also discussed during the 2018 National Association of County Agricultural Agents Annual Meeting and Professional Improvement Conference.

Extension agents displayed a poster assessing yield data generated from three years of research obtained from the small plot peanut fungicide efficacy trial at the 2018 National Association of County Agricultural Agents Annual Meeting and Professional Improvement Conference.

Photo of the small plot peanut fungicide efficacy trial used in meetings to discuss the importance of incorporating a preventative fungicide spray schedule.