

Rutgers NJ Livestock Programing

Title	Description	Date
Basic Pasture Management	The first webinar of the 3 part series of Pasture Management. This workshop discussed basic pasture management topics: Assessing your pasture, soil samples, pasture mixes, general pasture management and fertility. Presenters include members of the RCE Animal Ag/Field and Forage Working	4/13/2020
Horse Pasture Management	This session discussed topics on horse pasture management that included: Stretching your hay using pasture, and importance of pasture for horse nutrition. Presenters include members of the RCE Animal Ag/Field and Forage Working	4/14/2020
Livestock Pasture Management	This session discussed topics on livestock pasture management that included: Forage quality, livestock nutrition requirements, and grazing systems. Presenters include members of the RCE Animal Ag/Field and Forage Working	4/20/2020
Equine Management for COVID-19 and Pasture Renovation	Wine and Equine event was modified for an online webinar series. Topics included: Update on COVID-19 for Equine Farms Pasture Renovation No-Till Drills and Renovation Presenters include members of the RCE Animal Ag/Field and Forage Working	5/18/2020
Weed Identification and Control, Manure Management on Pasture	Wine and Equine event was modified for an online webinar series. Topics included: Weed ID and management Nutrient/manure management on pasture NRCS Representative discussing EQIP options Presenters include members of the RCE Animal Ag/Field and Forage Working	5/19/2020
NJ Livestock Monthly Meat Up	The NJ Livestock Monthly Meat Up is a monthly series targeted for livestock producers. Educational presentations for topics relevant for seasonal issues will be discussed. For the June meeting- Ruminants were the topic of discussion. Body Condition Scoring and Reproduction in Cattle and Parasite Management for Sheep and Goats. Presenters included: Dr. Michael Westendorf, Animal Science	6/01/2020

	Extension Specialist/Professor of Rutgers University Hank Bignell, Sr. Program Coordinator for Rutgers Cooperative Extension of Warren County
NJ Livestock Monthly Meat Up	The NJ Livestock Monthly Meat Up is a monthly series targeted for livestock producers. Educational presentations for topics relevant for seasonal issues will be discussed. For the July meeting- Physiology of Heat Stress and Heat Stress Management for livestock were discussed. Presenters included: Dr. Michael Westendorf, Animal Science Extension Specialist/Professor of Rutgers University Hank Bignell, Sr. Program Coordinator for Rutgers Cooperative Extension of Warren County	6/29/2020
Manure Management Series	Manure Storage: Planning and Examples Composting Animal Waste Animal Waste Management Plans Presenters include members of the RCE Animal Ag/Field and Forage Working Group	9/14/2020
Manure Management Series	Using a Stress Lot to Maximize Pasture Utilization Incorporating Fertility in a Manure Management Plan Pasture Fertility Presenters include members of the RCE Animal Ag/Field and Forage Working Group	9/21/2020

All of the webinars have been recorded. They are currently on the Rutgers Equine Science Center Youtube Page <https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCKZUbdHAbpJrAQXUNqaCdlw>. All of the webinars were sent to ANR RCE faculty and staff, as well, as current livestock producer email lists, RCE Plant and Pest Advisory, RCE NJAES Calendar, NJ Farm Bureau Newsletter and Facebook.