opportunities this year as well. I will be the first to let you know there will once again much to choose from and unfortunately some programs will overlap. This will continue to be a concern for attendees but please know we looked at the schedule and to get everything accomplished programs will have some overlap daily.

I am also excited about all of efforts on our behalf by the Arkansas County Agricultural Agents Association Members. Not only are our amazing co-workers helping committees get ready for us to come to Little Rock in July. They are planning some marvelous opportunities for sharing not only Arkansas Agriculture, but will include quite a bit of Southern Hospitality, Arkansas History and Culture. These opportunities will hopefully give you additional insight into how we are similar as well as different thereby making us better at our jobs and develop a new found appreciation of our co-workers from Arkansas and across the country.

While thinking not only of the professional development, professional improvement, and recognition opportunities listed in this issue of The County Agent Magazine, take the time to think about potential leadership positions on a national level. I know many of you hold leadership positions in your respective states. If you are interested in finding out what committee positions are available this year, please look in this issue and apply online. Help NACAA lay the Foundation for the Second Century to insure high quality professional development, professional improvement, and recognition for all NACAA Members.

In addition to The County Agent Magazine, go to the NACAA Web Page at www.nacaa.com for more information on presentations, posters, awards, and leadership opportunities. If you have additional questions, contact the Committee Regional Vice Chair or Chair, appropriate Council Chair, and or Board Member.

I am proud and honored to serve you, our NACAA Members. I would like to take time to say thank you to all of you for your support of Dan and I along with our family on the passing of my Mother. You have no idea how much your emails, cards, calls, and notes have meant to us. Your care and thoughtfulness makes us thankful to have all of you in our lives. It is truly an honor to have you as my co-workers and fellow NACAA Members.

Please read and enjoy this issue of The County Agent as there are many opportunities for you to think about participate in this year. I look forward to hearing about what many of you will be sharing with all of us in Little Rock in July. Make your plans now to attend the 2016 NACAA AMPIC in Little Rock, Arkansas in July, "It is a Natural"; come for the educational and recognition opportunities, but there is more to take in while in Arkansas. The agriculture will be amazing and diverse, also take the time to enjoy the hospitality, attractions, and culture of Arkansas, you will be glad you did.

Remember if you need anything I can help you with, please contact me. We are the team who will be creating the foundation for the next century of NACAA. I know this year will be a great one to get us started. Thank you again for all you do!

Life After Extension

Is there life after Extension? After 34 years working as a Penn State Extension Dairy Educator, with encouragement from a Penn State buyout, I decided it was time to retire. I did not have any definite plans to continue working after retirement, however; this changed after I received a phone call from Jay Howes, Deputy Secretary for the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. He asked if I would be interested in working on a project titled "Mid-Atlantic Secure Milk Supply Plan".

What is Mid-Atlantic Secure Milk Supply (MA-SMS) Plan? The MA-SMS plan is a USDA APHIS grant funded project. Funding for the project comes from Homeland Security with emphasis on protecting the United States milk supply in case of a Hoof and Mouth Disease (HMD) or other Foreign Animal Disease outbreak. Currently there are 11 cooperating states in the project including Delaware, Georgia, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, and West Virginia. The project is administered in each cooperating state by the State Veterinarian.

The underlying concept of the MA-SMS Plan is to maintain the continuity of business. In the event of an outbreak, raw milk from dairy farms in a movement restricted area would still be able to move to processing plants. Strict biosecurity procedures must be followed to allow this milk movement and minimize the spread of the HMD virus. Allowing milk movement under these conditions will help preserve the economic viability of dairy farms and dairy businesses and increase the available supply of dairy products to consumers.

Because dairy cattle may be infected and shedding the HMD virus before clinical signs appear, raw milk transported from dairy farms must be treated as potentially infected. Vehicles and people visiting farms and having contact with raw milk, including milk trucks and drivers, also must be treated as potential methods of disease transmission. Milk truck drivers and milk trucks are considered a moderate to high risk for disease spread unless strict biosecurity procedures are followed.

Components of the MA-SMS plan for permitting milk to move from farms in a restricted area include measures to be put in place before (pre-event) there is a HMD outbreak. Pre-event measures include a biosecurity readiness audit for dairy premises that includes appropriate facilities, equipment and supplies, written standard operating procedures, and evidence of training.

What is the current threat of HMD or another Foreign Animal Disease here in the U.S.? FBI Veterinarian Stephen Goldsmith stated at a Pennsylvania Food Defense Awareness Symposium: "Farms make easy targets for people who want to disrupt the U.S. economy and hurt the food supply. Attacking a farm is not as dramatic as blowing things up, but it can cause far reaching damage. People commonly think of bioterrorism as an attack on human health. That is certainly true, but when crops and livestock are targeted, it's more of an economic attack. If a single cow tested positive for hoof and mouth disease, an illness not seen in the U.S. since 1929, the country would likely lose all export markets for all species that can contract the disease."

It is very important that Pennsylvania maintain a secure milk supply as we export 60 percent of the milk produced on our 7200 dairy farms to many of the other cooperating states. My role in the project is to recruit Pennsylvania dairy farms and work with them to become pre-event certified. Educating dairy producers about improving their farm biosecurity is very similar to the work I did as a Penn State Dairy Extension Educator. So yes, there can be life after Extension.

APPLYING FOR 2016 NACAA AWARDS PROGRAMS

The General Application process is found on-line at <http://nacaa.com/awards/> and for the majority of the awards listed in this publication, on-line applications are mandatory.

Note: 1) NACAA policy states that all first place national winners and all national finalists must register and attend the AM/PIC to receive their award. (See below under "Attendance Requirement").

All program entries must be in possession of respective committee state chair by March 15, 2016, except where noted. Applying earlier is encouraged.

Current members of the NACAA Board may not enter the professional improvement programs with the exceptions of DSA and AA. State chairs, regional vice chairs, and national chairs may participate in the programs which their committees are administering according to criteria determined by the NACAA Board of Directors. Contact NACAA Vice President Alan Galloway for further details.

Attendance Requirement

NACAA policy states that all Achievement Award (AA), Distinguished Service Award (DSA), National Finalists, National Winners, and Poster Session Presenters must register for the NACAA Annual Meeting and Professional Improvement Conference and attend the designated ceremony to receive their award (minimum 1 day registration fee). Decisions on requests for non-attendance and excused absences will be made on a case by case basis by consultation among the respective National Committee Chair, in concert with the National Committee Vice Chairs and the NACAA Vice President. Excuses may be granted to AA, DSA, National Finalists, and National Winners for extreme personal or family illness; circumstances which would seriously jeopardize their job; or similar extreme situations. The intent of this requirement is that awards are inclusive of cash, plaques, and certificates.

In the event a national winner does not receive an excused absence from attending the AM/PIC, the national winner's award will be presented to the next ranking National Finalist who attends the AM/PIC. If none of the National Finalists attend the AM/PIC, a national winner award will not be presented.

In the event a national finalist does not receive an excused absence from attending the AM/PIC, the national finalist award will be forfeited. If a national finalist award is forfeited, there will be no replacement from lower ranking entries.

Note: The National Winner who is asked to make a program presentation at the AM/PIC is eligible for a reimbursement of the AM/PIC registration fee. In case of a team presentation, the value will equal one registration.

USDA SARE/NACAA FELLOWS PROGRAM

PURPOSE

This program is designed to provide hands-on experience and materials for selected NACAA members to study and become familiar with the basics of sustainable agriculture and alternative farm systems as currently practiced within the four regions of the US Department of Agriculture. An understanding of current trends, practices, and underlying strategies within the sustainable agriculture movement will help Cooperative Extension agents or farm advisors, and agricultural professionals with whom they work, build effective outreach programs to provide assistance to those who have made the transition or to help guide producers desiring to begin the transition toward sustainable production systems on their own farms and ranches.

Specific sustainable farming systems will be studied as selected fellows visit two of the USDA regions each year as part of the two year program. The fellows will hear discussions on sustainable agriculture as pertaining to each region and visit selected farms and ranches to view firsthand the application of sustainable agriculture principles studied in the classroom. For more details go to <http://www.nacaa.com> and click on the SARE Fellows button.

What is the SARE Fellows Program?

The SARE Fellows Program is Opportunity!

It is not only excellent for the professional development of an Extension Educator's career, but provides the opportunity to:

- 1) Forge new connections with colleagues from other parts of the nation
- 2) Evaluate agriculture within a social, economic and environmental framework
- 3) Visit innovative producers that are striving to sustain agriculture for future generations through the use of sustainable practices
- 4) Improve your agriculture programs

What are sustainable practices?

They are something that needs to be determined and developed by you.

Please consider applying to become a USDA SARE / NACAA Fellow, as early in my Extension career I had the opportunity to participate in the program. The total immersion into the Sustainable Agriculture principles became an important part of my clientele services.

If you need further information on the program please do not hesitate to contact me.

Search for Excellence in Livestock Production

TURNING A PROFIT WITH BEEF CATTLE

The purpose of this educational program was to increase the individual profitability of the cow/calf producers in Mississippi. I accomplished this task by working with beef producers in identifying their effective production practices, diagnosing their inefficiencies in production, and prescribing corrective measures to ensure their maximum profitability through the optimum utilization of their farm resources. In order to achieve the overall goal of profitability, several smaller goals needed to be met. I utilized multiple program activities and teaching methods, recognizing that different producers learn in different ways. These educational activities included 129 newsletter/circular letters, 131 newspaper articles, and 135 group activities that reached 1,725 producers over the past three years. The producers participating in the program indicated the value of the information they gained from these educational activities in the form of savings or increased profits to their operations at over $7.5 million. However, the increase in knowledge by these producers is a much more valuable indicator of its true success and effectiveness.

OPEN COMMITTEE CHAIR AND VICE CHAIR POSITIONS 2017-2019

When you read through the Special Edition of The County Agent, it is obvious that committee work and related activities is the essence of what it takes to achieve NACAA's mission. Historically NACAA has been fortunate to have committed, hard working members fill those leadership positions. This year as every year there is an opportunity for members to expand and share their leadership and professional improvement skills by applying for committee positions that are open. Becoming active in the NACAA committee structure will provide you with a wealth of both professional and personal growth. Give serious consideration to any of the state and national committee positions that are available.

Application/nominations will be available on the NACAA web site shortly after January 1, 2016 and will be due no later than March 1, 2016. Appointments will be made at the Spring Board Meeting.
